MAXIMIZE PROFITS

Stop pouring profits down the drain. Taylor's keg scale can assist with calculating liquor costs or used in conjunction with a more advanced liquor inventory system. Using a keg scale can hold bartenders accountable for selling every pour, wasting beer by pouring it out, handing out free beers, etc.

INVENTORY CONTROL

Weighing the keg is more accurate in determining fullness. Management can calculate the amount of beer poured not sold in comparison to draft beer sales in the POS system or register.

INVENTORY VERIFICATION

Weighing kegs allows management to determine the exact amount of beer they are receiving and effectively track draft beer usage.

EASY-TO-USE AND VERSATILE

Taylor's keg scale features a slim 1.5" profile which allows heavy kegs to easily slide on for measurement readings, no heavy lifting required. This can also be used as a receiving scale for food boxes to ensure what is delivered matches the invoice price.

Handling Guidelines

Maintain cold foods at or below 41°F.
Maintain hot foods at or above 135°F.

Potentially hazardous hot food should be cooled rapidly. 135°F cooled to 70°F within 2 hours. 70°F cooled to 41°F within 4 hours. Using shallow pans with a product depth of no greater than 2 inches, the food should be placed in a refrigerator uncovered or loosely covered during the cooling process.

Never defrost food at room temperature. Use a refrigerator, continuously running cold water, a microwave or cook from frozen state. Frozen food that has been thawed should be cooked or otherwise processed before it may be refrozen.

Cook foods to the proper internal temperature. Use a metal probe thermometer to ensure food is cooked properly.

Wash your hands thoroughly with hot soapy water (before and after handling food) for a minimum of 20 seconds.

Avoid handling food when: ill, have a skin infection, or have cuts on the hands.

Never cross contaminate from raw to cooked products.

Wash, rinse and sanitize cutting boards and knives between every use.

Reheat leftovers to 165°F internal temperature or higher, stirring constantly to cook evenly or microwave to 195°F. Never reheat leftovers more than once.

Keep kitchens, dining areas and storage rooms free from insects and rodents. Store chemicals away from food.

SEGURIDAD DE LOS ALIMENTOS

Normas de Manipulación

Conservar los alimentos fríos a 41°F/5°C o menos. Conservar los alimentos calientes a 135°F/57°C o más.

Los alimentos calientes que puedan ser peligrosos deben enfriarse rápidamente. De 135°F/57°C a 70°F/21°C en un plazo de 2 horas. De 70°F/21°C a 41°F/5°C en un plazo de 4 horas. Durante el proceso de enfriamiento, los alimentos deben colocarse en recipientes poco profundos donde la profundidad de los alimentos no sea mayor que 2 pulgadas y ponerse en un refrigerador sin taparlos o tapándolos ligeramente.

No descongele nunca los alimentos a la temperatura ambiente. Use un refrigerador, agua corriente fría continuamente, horno de microondas, o cocine en estado congelado. Los alimentos congelados que se hayan descongelado deben cocinarse o procesarse antes de que se puedan volver a congelar.

Cocine los alimentos a la temperatura interna apropiada. Use un termómetro de metal tipo sonda para asegurarse de que los alimentos se cocinen de forma apropiada.

Lávese las manos completamente con agua caliente y jabón (antes y después de manipular los alimentos) durante un mínimo de 20 segundos.

No manipule los alimentos cuando esté enfermo, tenga una infección de la piel o tenga cortes en las manos.

No contamine los alimentos cocinados con alimentos crudos.

Lave, enjuague e higienice las tablas de cortar y los cuchillos cada vez que se usen.

Vuelva a calentar las sobras a una temperatura interna de 165°F/74°C o más, agitando constantemente para calentar por igual, o pángalas en un horno de microondas a 195°F/91°C. No vuelva a calentar las sobras más de una vez.

No permita que haya insectos y roedores en las cocinas, comedores y áreas de almacenamiento. Guarde los productos químicos apartados de los alimentos.
